President's Message...by Patti Burgess

The year is flying by so fast! The club continues to bring in new members, classes are full and our trials continue to be successful.

We had our first Barn Hunt trial in August and it was a great success. The club now has it's own Barn Hunt rats for future trials. Jan Sund has agreed to care for them. Their names are Dakota and Montana!

After the October general meeting, two of our board members have chosen to step down. I want to thank Ed Barys and Karen Haberkorn personally for all their time and effort given to this club! They have both put a lot of hard work into NOCI and I know we will still see them volunteering. Thank you!! Thank you!!

Look for lots of Fun and New things in 2016!

Patti B.

Don't forget -
Annual elections are being held at the General
Meeting on October 16, 2015 at 7:30pm.

The slate of officers is on page 9 of the Fireplug!

It's time to start collecting donations for our Obedience/Rally Trial. I will be putting the donation boxes out in a couple weeks. Dog items are welcome but anything else is also fine. If you want to do a theme basket I will be happy to wrap it for you. If you need ideas please email me. If you want to donate cash please make sure to give it to me personally, I am at the club on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, don't put cash in the donation boxes. Our NOCI raffle has become very popular with the exhibitors and our membership has always been more than generous in their donations. If you have any questions please call and I will return your call. If you need a donation picked up you can leave a message on my phone. Thanks for all your support in the past, I'm looking forward to another great year.

Nose Work News

NOCI Nose Work teams have been busy and earning many titles. Gloria K. and Tucker earned their NW 1 in June. All of the following earned their Element Specialty Level 1 Vehicles at Wilmot- Barb N. and Gracie, Jean B. and Cody, Kim Y. and Connor, Sandy F. and Brody, Sylvia S. and Delilah, and Cathi O. and Lefty. These teams earned their NW 1 titles- Pam D. and Beau, Sylvia S. and Delilah, Mary S. and Zoey, and Peter Y. and Rookie.

Also, with the help of 18 volunteers, NOCI ran a very successful Practice NW 1 and NW 2 trial at St. Johns Lutheran Church in Algonquin. 38 teams received some very good nose work experience in a new environment.

Barn Hunt Happenings

NOCI had its first sanctioned Barn Hunt trial on August 22nd & 23rd. It was a lot of work but a great success! There were many new individuals to the sport. Many teams not only qualified but received titles over that weekend!

NOCI will be holding two Barn Hunt trials next year. One will be in April and the other again in August. Please come out and join the fun.

PLAQUE FAQs

1. I hear people talking about their “plaques”- what are they?

Each plaque is a wooden board, about 12 inches wide and 17 inches tall. On top is a large plate with the dog’s name and breed. Below are 18 brass plates, each listing a title or award earned by you and your dog. Each year, the plaque gets updated with new titles. A smaller plaque, about half the size, with only six plates is also available.

2. What do I have to do to get one?

You have to meet three criteria to be eligible

1. Submit a score report for each title you and your dog earn by the end of the year.
2. Provide at least one service for the club during the year. (Fill out the service form)
3. Attend at least one general membership meeting during the year (sign the roster)

If you are eligible, you receive a letter in January listing the titles and awards for the plaque. Check it for accuracy and return it so that the plaque can be made or updated. You will receive the plaque in March at the awards banquet. Detailed instructions come with the award letter

3. How do I submit a score report?

Go to tinyurl.com/nociscore and enter the information about your title. Don’t forget to hit “submit.” Or download the form from the club website, fill it in, and place it in the “WOOF Box” in the club office, or mail to the awards chairperson (Judy Gemperline)

4. Do I have to wait for my official title certificate before submitting a score report?

No. You may submit a title as soon as you earn it. Waiting for the official certificate may cause you to miss the deadline. You may wait until December to submit score reports for the entire year, but it is recommended that you submit titles as they are earned.

5. I got a qualifying leg, but not a title. Do I need to submit this?

You may, but it is not required. Members who submitted Qs but did not earn titles are listed in each issue of the Fireplug.

6. I received a national ranking for 2014, but it wasn’t announced until 2015. Have I missed the deadline for reporting this award?

No. Since these rankings are not issued until the following year, the deadlines for these are the following December. For example, 2014 rankings have a deadline of December 31, 2015.

7. I made a mistake entering my information online. What do I do?

Email the awards chairperson (Judy Gemperline djj1988@yahoo.com) and explain the error. She will get it corrected in the club’s record.

8. I forgot whether I submitted a particular title. What should I do?

The entire spreadsheet is available at tinyurl.com/nociscorereports. You can search within the spreadsheet, but you will not be able to edit it. Or you could just enter the title again.

9. I missed the year-end deadline. Now what?

If you submit a title late, the club does not pay for the engraving. If you have a plaque on which the title will fit, you will have to reimburse the club for the engraving. However, if you do not already have a plaque, or your plaque is full, you would have to pay for a new plaque as well.

There are several participants (or “heroes”, as they are called) from NOCI participating in the Morris Animal Foundation Canine Lifetime Health Project - Golden Retriever Lifetime Study.

What is the Golden Retriever Lifetime Study?

Morris Animal Foundation’s Golden Retriever Lifetime Study is a groundbreaking effort to understand and learn how to prevent cancer and other diseases in dogs. It is the largest and longest observational study ever undertaken to improve the health of dogs. This study is the first under Morris Animal Foundation’s Canine Lifetime Health Project. The study will last 10 to 14 years and will enroll 3,000 Golden Retrievers younger than 2 years of age at the time of enrollment. This study will identify genetic, nutritional and environmental risk factors for cancer and other major diseases that affect all dogs.

Why did Morris Animal Foundation choose Golden Retrievers for the first study under the Canine Lifetime Health Project?

Golden Retrievers were chosen because the breed has a higher prevalence of cancer than other dog breeds. In addition, the large population of Golden Retrievers in the United States ensures that the study team will be able to enroll the required number (3,000) of dogs. The knowledge obtained from this study will benefit all dogs, and that is our primary goal.

What are the laboratory tests performed for the Golden Retriever Lifetime Study and are the results provided?

Some of the samples that the veterinarian collects (blood, urine and feces) will be shipped overnight to a laboratory for:

- blood chemistry analysis (SuperChem)
- complete blood cell count (CBC)
- urinalysis
- fecal analysis (ova and parasite)
- total thyroid test (T4)
- heartworm antigen test

The test results are sent directly to the Golden Retriever Lifetime Study and the study team emails a copy of the results to the veterinarian. These test results will provide valuable information about the dog’s health. The veterinarian will interpret these results and report them back to the owner. Additional samples of blood, urine, feces, hair and toenail clippings will be sent to a long-term storage facility to be preserved for future analysis.

What if cancer is suspected in a study dog?

Obtaining samples and accurate diagnoses of malignant cancers are necessary components of the Golden Retriever Lifetime Study. In the event of a presumptive cancer diagnosis, a fine needle aspirate (FNA) or a biopsy is acceptable for screening new masses. This may reveal a benign process (lipoma, sebaceous cyst, etc.). If a FNA suggests or confirms malignancy, communication with the Golden Retriever Lifetime Study Team is required, and a biopsy should be performed by the study veterinarian or a veterinary oncology specialist.

When clinically feasible, sample(s) of the tumor as well as surrounding normal tissue are requested. The tissue sample should be submitted to Antech Diagnostics (VCA Inc.) at no cost to the veterinarian for the histopathology. The postage, shipping and packaging materials for the shipment of biopsy samples are provided at no charge to the clinic.

If a dog has a presumptive diagnosis of malignant cancer and the owner is unable to afford the procedure to collect a biopsy, the study offers a reimbursement of up to $500 per dog over the life of the study to collect a biopsy. This money is specifically intended to help an owner pay for a biopsy procedure that they otherwise could not afford.

MY FARWELL TO NOCI Jean Baumann

I never would of thought this day would happen: I am moving to Cape Coral Florida (I moved 10/7/15). NOCI has been like a family member to me. I and a handful of others are from the Basement days of NOCI. Some good memories are: Agility classes actually started in that basement. Two rooms that had very low ceilings, a constant water drip from somewhere down there, a long downward flight of stairs to navigate, a stray dog coming down to visit us, a huge RAT sitting in the doorway, but we managed to have fun. Our obedience classes were only held a couple nights a week. First Friday of each month was our fun matches. One fun match night, the lights went off in the village and our training hall. Luckily most of the match was over, except for Open sits and downs. The emergency lights came on, but it was still dark. We did handle that, by putting candles on the floor. The dogs did great. Many such stories are in my memory bank and will be cherished.

Did you know NOCI actually had doggie dancing way back then? I had started a group called the Doe C Doe Doggies, and we did perform a couple of times, at the PET EXPO at the race track in Arlington Heights. We rehearsed in the Palatine Basement.

Making the move to Strandell's in Algonquin was a true blessing to NOCI. More room, but yet, we still had a leaky window when it rained. I guess we just cannot get away from leaks. We actually only had the upstairs to rent at the beginning. All obedience, agility and flyball was done upstairs. About a year or so later, we had the opportunity to rent out the large warehouse in the back of the building on the first floor. Agility quickly took that spot, new blue mats were purchased. We put on some agility fun stuff also plus a flyball club rented that space out once a week.

When we moved to Cary, the club really started to expand. Morning and afternoon classes started up: Agility, flyball, the start of Rally, obedience/puppy classes, freestyle, drop in class on Friday mornings, NOCI was on a roll. More classes started up and the one I am most proud of is our Nosework classes. We had started off with one experimental class, and we now have 8 classes going on three different days, plus a waiting list, to get into one of these Fun classes.

NOCI is doing great these days, and I expect the club to keep growing.

I am sure I will get involved with an obedience club down in Florida soon. I guess once you are hooked with dog performance stuff, you are hooked for life.

I know I will be in touch with the club through some of my good friends.

It has been a pleasure to be a member of Northwest Obedience Club since 1979, and I will MISS you all.
